

ADRIATIC TO SAIL TO-DAY

New York Times

Wednesday 22 May 1907

Biggest Liner's Cabins Full on Her First Voyage Eastward

With her saloon apartments filled, the White Star liner Adriatic, biggest and newest of transatlantic liners at present in commission, will sail for Southampton on her first eastward passage of the Atlantic at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Capt. Smith of the liner and his staff officers believe that she will perform even better on this voyage than she did on her maiden westward effort, which ended at New York on last Thursday afternoon.

Owing to the strike of the longshoremen, it is said that the Adriatic will sail with much of the cargo that she brought over with her still in her hold. She is expected to reach Southampton early next Thursday morning. The sailing of the Adriatic marks the inauguration of the White Star Line's new New York-Southampton weekly service. The other vessels that have been transferred to this service are the Oceanic, Teutonic, and Majestic.

Joseph H. Choate, ex-Ambassador to Great Britain, who is to head the American delegation to The Hague Peace Conference, is one of the passengers booked to sail on the Adriatic. He will be accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Choate.

J. Bruce Ismay, President of the International Mercantile Marine, who arrived on the Adriatic last week, will also sail on the new liner, as will Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke. Sir Purdon is going on his annual European vacation, but will find time, while in Europe, to be on the lookout for desirable acquisitions for the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter, mother-in-law of Lord Curzon and mother of the Countess of Suffolk, is another passenger. She is going on her annual visit to her daughter and Lord Curzon.

Others who will sail on the Adriatic are: Col. George Harvey, Col. and Mrs. William Jay, Col. William Cary Sanger, ex-Assistant Secretary of War; Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Iselin and the Misses Iselin, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Appleton, Lord Terence Browne, Mrs. Walter Brooks, Sir Charles and Lady Campbell, Mrs. Case Canfield and the Misses Canfield, Mrs. James Carstairs, J. W. Corcoran, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coutts, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Dickson, Norman Dodge, F. A. Duneka, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Dunscombe, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. James Elverson, Mrs. Richardson Clover, wife of Capt. Clover, U. S. N.

Mrs Jonathan S. Ely, Mrs. C. L. Goddard, Miss Goddard, Mrs. M. P. Grace,

Mrs. Kate Smith Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Juliliard, Charles L. Knoedler, Joseph O. Minott, the Rev. Dr. Henry Mottet, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Oliphant, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ralston, Mrs. T. J. Oakley Rhineland, H. L. Story, Vicomte and Vicomtesse de Tristan, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tyler. Mr. and Mrs. George Gray Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. A. Whitney, and Col. C. E. Wood.

[Several additional paragraphs, detailing passenger arrivals on two other liners have not been transcribed, nor has a separate article about Alfred G. Vanderbilt's sailing on Adriatic to attend the International Horse Show in London.]

Copyright Encyclopedia Titanica - www.encyclopedia-titanica.org 1996-2011 and third parties (ref: #5628)
URL : <http://www.encyclopedia-titanica.org/adriatic-sail-day.html>

PDF edition provided for personal reference only.

