

DOG AND KENNEL NOTES

New York Times

Sunday 28 November 1915

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Goldenberg of Paris and Nice, formerly owners of the famous Kennels at Riverdale-on-Hudson, arrived last week from France, bringing with them the champion French bulldog, Nellcote Bas-Blancs, said to be the shortest-faced example of the new breed extant. At the recent show of the New England French Bulldog Club the winners of both championships and the reserve champions were related to the phenomenal [sic] sire, Ch. Nellcote Gamin. It is possible that Mr. Goldenberg will judge the annual show of the French Bulldog Club of America.

[This paragraph is excerpted from a longer article, the balance of which is irrelevant for present purposes.]

Courtesy of Mark Baber

Copyright Encyclopedia Titanica - www.encyclopedia-titanica.org 1996-2012 and third parties (ref: #4932)
URL : http://www.encyclopedia-titanica.org/kennel_notes.html

PDF edition provided for personal reference only.

