

Mr. F. E. G. Coy

Cambridge Independent Press

Friday 26 April 1912

Mr. F. E. G. Coy, nephew of Mr. Jonathan Coy, of Prickwillow Road, Ely, was an engineer on the Titanic, and no news has been received of his being among those rescued. He also was on the Olympic at the time of the collision, and was afterwards transferred to the Titanic. He was only married last July.
