Shaw, Savill and Albion Co., Ltd. Successors to Messrs. Shaw, Savill and Co. and the Albion Co. Established 50 years ago. This company maintain a regular service of passenger and cargo steamers between London and New Zealand, and occasionally despatch sailing vessels from London and Glasgow to that Colony. A fortnightly service from the United Kingdom to New Zealand is now maintained; the steamers being equipped with every modern appliance; being fitted with patent refrigerators for the conveyance of frozen meat, as well as butter, cheese, fruit, etc., from New Zealand, and also to ensure fresh food for passengers. The route taken by these steamers affords a most varied trip, the outward voyage being via Teneriffe, Cape Colony, Hobart, Tasmania; the homeward, via Cape Horn, calling at Rio de Janeiro and Teneriffe. The White Star Line have associated with this line their Delphic and Gothic, and the recently built Athenic, Corinthic, and Ionic.

FLEET

Gross tonnage, 112,000.
