

SOCIETY NOTES FROM ABROAD

New York Times

Sunday 12 May 1912

Miss Gladys Cherry, who was one of the passengers rescued from the Titanic, is a cousin of the Earl of Rothes, being a daughter of the late J. F. Cherry and Lady Emily Cherry. Miss Cherry was on her way to New York with Lady Rothes. She and Lord and Lady Rothes will probably make a tour of the world before returning to England, in which case they may not be home until the Autumn.
