

Tablet to Woman Lost on Titanic

New York Times

Monday 1 June 1914

NORTHFIELD, Mass., May 31---A tablet in memory of Miss Annie Funk, who was lost in the Titanic disaster, was unveiled to-day at the Russell Sage Memorial Chapel at Northfield Seminary. Miss Funk, who was returning from missionary work in India, aided others to places in the lifeboats, but met death herself when the Titanic sank. At a morning service the baccalaureate sermon was delivered to the fifty-six young women graduates by the Rev. E. A. Read of Holyoke.

Courtesy of Mark Baber

Copyright Encyclopedia Titanica - www.encyclopedia-titanica.org 1996-2012 and third parties (ref: #3579)

URL : <http://www.encyclopedia-titanica.org/tablet-woman-lost-titanic.html>

PDF edition provided for personal reference only.

