

VENICE EXHIBITION OPENED

New York Times

Wednesday 24 April 1912

Duke of Genoa Represents the King---J. P. Morgan Present

---

VENICE, April 23---The International Art Exhibition was solemnly inaugurated to-day by the Duke of Genoa in the name of King Victor figures at the ceremony.

Count Grimaldi, the Mayor of Venice, delivered a speech, in which he said that this exhibition had very great artistic significance, owing to its connection with the rebirth of the famous Campanile and the resurrection [sic] of Italian power in Northern Africa and the Mediterranean.

---

Courtesy of Mark Baber

Copyright Encyclopedia Titanica - www.encyclopedia-titanica.org 1996-2011 and third parties (ref: #6194)

URL : <http://www.encyclopedia-titanica.org/venice-exhibition-opened.html>

---

PDF edition provided for personal reference only.

